

Sustainable food practices

LUNCH DEBATE

Wednesday, 3rd October
12h15-13h45 / CARITAS LUXEMBOURG

2018

29 rue Michel Welter
L-2730 Luxembourg

SPEAKERS

Michel Grevis

Michel Grevis is the executive manager of the Centre SNJ Hollenfels – education for sustainable development (ESD). He is the co-author of 'ESD for children and young persons' and the soon to be released 'Shape the future' (an instrument to plan, realize and evaluate ESD-projects). He will show and make the audience taste how corporate interests have succeeded in destroying people's awareness of the importance of biodiversity and origin in chocolate consumption.

Rachel Reckinger

Dr. Rachel Reckinger is a food sociologist and anthropologist at the University of Luxembourg. She is the principal investigator of Sustainable Food Practices, spanning Luxembourg's foodscape from production, governance, distribution to consumption. (<https://food.uni.lu>). During this lunch debate, she will critically discuss a few emerging alternative food networks in Luxembourg. They contribute to a cultural shift with the creation of resourcefulness for biodiversity, environmental and social justice.
