International conference

To mark the 50th anniversary of the Werner Report, the C²DH and its partners are organising an international conference. At a time of uncertainty as to the wider European project, the role of Economic and Monetary Union (EMU) will be analysed via an interdisciplinary approach based on archive research and existing literature.

Introductory lecture:

- Pierre Gramegna (Minister of Finance of Luxembourg)

Keynote speakers:

- Loukas Tsoukalis, Professor, Paris School of International Affairs, Sciences Po, Paris; President of the Hellenic Foundation for European & Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP), Athens)
- Harold James, Professor, Princeton University, USA
- Yves Mersch, Member of the European Central Bank Executive's Board

The different sessions can be followed online via Webex.
